Who are Friends of the Library?

The Friends of the Cortez Public Library is a group of people who believe that Cortez should have the best in library service. They are a tax-exempt charitable organization. Through volunteer work and financial support, they help to make the library a center for the education and cultural enrichment of people of all ages. Each Friend is instrumental in helping the Cortez Public Library be "Something for Everyone."

Why have a Friends organization?

The public library, as a tax-supported institution, needs to be represented by an organization open to everyone and including all the interests of the community.

The Friends volunteer their talents and knowledge to help the librarians with special projects and encourage community gifts to the Cortez Public Library.
